

The Aspire Higher RaceCar quest is truly unique, since the start of this program this year students have learned many different skills they will need to use when they get out of high school and college. One of those skills is leadership. Leadership means to lead a group of people or organization. The students on this team are in charge of a lot, they help other teams out, and they makes sure everyone is on task. Some of the things that the leadership team has done are learning to be a leader, they have also been working on our mission and vision statement which will explain our goals as a team and how we are going to reach those goals. The leadership team is full of hardworking, passionate students. Members of the team are chosen by the teachers and work to figure out new ways that we could raise money to put toward our car, or merchandise. We are currently in the process of writing thank you letters to companies, or individual people who have sponsored or donated via indiegogo, or our website. Our team has also held a 3 on 3 basketball tournament where (Enter number of teams) participated. The leadership team has worked very hard to help us accomplish what needs to be done. Many leadership team members also have been given the opportunity to give professional presentations to different companies such as: Team EJP located in Gardiner Maine, Androscoggin Bank, as well as Mike Mayberry who is the owner of Oxford Plains Speed Way. The team works with many professional companies now that the program has worked its way around the community and to different parts of Maine. The team has learned responsibility, maturity, how to work with others, and how to speak to people through giving presentations and working with different companies. The Leadership team really helps the team a lot in the long run! Remember to like our facebook page, and check out our indiegogo campaign!
